Yeah!

You lie awake, your body aches
Livin' your life under the shadow of your father
She's flying high, you don't realize
She's got her share of her own problems in her life

You'd better slow down, you know you're livin' too fast You're gonna break down, they say you're never gonna last

Chorus:

Two hearts beat as one together
It may not be forever, but it's for now - yeah!
Two kids, they were nothing special
But they both had the metal to say who they are

Two hearts, two hearts

The age gap, the mental lapse, livin' at home can drive you crazy
But you take it
She's workin' hard to hide the scars
Nobody said it would be easy, but she's tryin'

You'd better wake up, too busy livin' in the past You'd better shape up, 'cause this could be the chance

(chorus)

(Solo)

Now it's the showdown, they're gonna put you to the test
You gotta break out, you gotta do your best

Two hearts beat as one together
It may not be forever, but it's for now - yeah
Two kids, they were nothing special

But they both had the metal to say "Here we are" - yeah

Two hearts, when two worlds collide it starts - yeah
Two hearts, when two worlds collide, there's no place to hide
Two hearts
