"Silent Waterstream"

The truth is harsh, that is why it has never been told
I beg you on my knees, my head against the floor
To me it seems that in darkness, the world is fold
Is it true nobody will speak, can you tell me more

Reality is gone in the quest for the source of life
Until now it has been like living in a constant dream Redeem me from my gloomy thoughts, and my inner strife
Please let them flow away, like a silent waterstream

I lost myself in the rhythm of my breathing
Waterstream
I found myself in a caress of silence
Silent Waterstream
