Last night I had a curious dream
You were a king I was a queen
And far away over endless woods
On the top of the world our castle stood

We were sixteen that day and nobody knew
That big things would happen and dreams would come true
We walked down the gardens to the east riverside
When suddenly a wise man stood there by our side

I will wait
I will wait by your side
I will wait
I will wait by your side
All those years will come true
All those years will come true

Listen to me I have a message for you
You will travel for years in search of the truth
Whatever will happen whatever you'll see
Just follow your heart and this chickadee

When I woke up this morning the dream was not over
I still saw the world from my little tower
My hand held a feather from that little bird
And written on it the old man's words

I will wait
I will wait by your side
I will wait
I will wait by your side
All those years will come true
All those years will come true

I will wait...
