Scream out in Anger
How can this be happening to me
I am standing here alone
What is this I see
I am watching everything fall apart

This must be wrong, a silent place on this earth
I've spent much time where the dead have marked the path
If this timeless greed will be our death
This can't go on

Who can tell where we are heading
In this world that we have built
I see people dying

I can hear their tormented cries

This must be wrong, a silent place on this earth
I've spent much time where the dead have marked the
path
If this timeless greed will be our death
This can't go on

This must be wrong, a silent place on this earth
I've spent much time where the dead have marked the
path
If this timeless greed will be our death
This can't go on
