Sitting here all alone
You know it's just not right
Lately it seems to happen every night

Hiding away from love
How could I be so sure
Lately I wonder about it more and more

So I think that it's just about time
That I opened up my eyes
Then if I see love come my way
I wont let it pass me by

Come on love, come on in
Come on let my life begin
I've waited much to long to see your face

Come on love, now is the time
To show that you're a friend of mine
As sure as there's a sky above
You can be the girl I've been dreaming of
Come on love

There was a time before
When I knew what love could be
Something changed as you walked away from me
So I made myself a world that would let nobody in Cause it's only now that I see what a fool I've been

So love, I'm calling on you
To do what only love can do
Any plans that I had for one
Can easily be made for two

Come on love, come on in
Come on let my life begin
I've waited much to long to see your face

Come on love, now is the time
To show that you're a friend of mine
As sure as there's a sky above

Come on love come on now
Come on pull me through somehow
You've been a stranger much too long in my life

(Repeat)

Come on love
