Spending all the time waiting for the idiots to surrender to whatever I've seen all of the obsession that is family value, still we play the tune line up everybodys waiting for you to say your name and see you play the fool right now the suits and ties seem like they are linkin park and every rockstar

chorus they won't they don't want you name got no value got no fame the TV executive decisions have all been defined and written by the rules tune in and vote for the winner again you don't have to got nothing else to do
