Magazines and afternoon dreams get me through the day
And till the night can smile for the people as I sing and I play
I left home, it seems like a century ago
I never thought I could miss anybody so, but now I know

Everywhere I go, everything I do, every song is you Searched my mind just to find something I always knew
Everywhere I go, everything I do, every song is you
Searched my mind just to find something I always knew
Every song is you

Singing man with a six-piece song band, answer to my dreams
And every time I sing without you, how lonely it seems
I love you now like I never loved you before Each day that goes by, I find that I want you so, I need you more

Everywhere I go, everything I do, every song is you
Searched my mind just to find something I always knew
Everywhere I go, everything I do, every song is you
Searched my mind just to find something I always knew
Every song is you

Everywhere I go, everything I do, every song is you
Searched my mind just to find something I always knew
Everywhere I go, everything I do, every song is you I searched my mind just to find something I always knew
