If I was the next one bombed
Could you uh could you keep me on?
Would you lock the door to my place?
Could you keep a straight face on?
And tell me to run along
And tell me to go

I seen you before on a hell-bent streak
I know you don't hear me when I try to speak
I try to reason I try to make sense
For we will surely not be here again
The choice is yours only when
The choice is
Yours for today
Yours only because
It's for today

You take the mind of many place
Under your wing
Doing the things that I love
Will you return at the end of the day
The things that you stole?
I never know
I can only hold you above
