woe baby what can you see in your eyes across an advance wind yeah what imagine at the sky?
what do you want? do you need?

oh baby when we're sad, we're bad i phoned you midnight call yeah but i know it's never change yes, every loneliness is never die

[never say ever say never ever say] whenever time has gone we found the many things [every night every night never every say] the herat is never end, never ever never end listen to my heart, looking for your dream happy shining place woe that you want baby are you free? baby are you sad? do you wanna have me living with you?

now we stand amid contrary wind i believe you now you can work it out dreams come true

woe baby it's just the same after all
