"Martyr"

I never meant it so much,
I'm on leash with the fury of the fire!
I only wanted your touch,
I'm seen as a sinner and a liar!

I got to take you so high,
I can feel all the chases of the sky.
I never held you so tight,
I conceal all the words for you to sign.

You know it's true;
I'm walking through the same broken world as you.
Can't you see?
you're living in the same tangled web as me.

I never meant it so much,
I'm on leash with the fury of the fire!
I never meant to go back,
I can beat out the poison in your eyes!

You know it's true;
I'm walking through the same broken world as you.
Can't you see?
you're living in the same tangled web as me.
