Hide your eyes
Don't let them see, don't let them know
Don't you know
That they are everywhere around us

Stay awake
Don't let them hear you talking while you sleep
Have you heard
Stories of how people disappear

Don't let them win the game
Don't let them fool you again
Don't let them dig into your head
Don't let them change your point of view
Don't let them take you away
Don't let them put you in a cage
Don't be afraid of what you are
Just find a way out of this maze

They can hear
Every word we say and what we think
So hide away
The sadness without hope that's in your eyes

Don't let them win the game
Don't let them fool you again
Don't let them dig into your head
Don't let them change your point of view
Don't let them take you away
Don't let them put you in a cage
Don't be afraid of what you are
Just find a way out of this maze

That guy is looking so unquiet
That one is hiding from our eyes
He's playing music way too loud
So we can't hear a word he says
How silly they all look
But in the end they're all the same
How silly they all look
But in the end they're all the same
