No tears but she was soaked
How could I leave you alone
You're strong like the wind
So I get blown; your look strikes me down

Left you in a dance
Alone you jived, black boys surround
But my heart is so hard
Like your boots, stomping the ground

(CHORUS)

But it's never gonna get any better
So what's the point in all this stress and tears?
We're just running up a brick wall here
Might as well cut the threads cos
This could go on for years
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you

Your suga don't taste so sweet tonight
Must be something on my mind (must be something on my mind, must be something on my mind)
The grass is always greener on the other side
Why am I hopeless without you?
I love it when you hold me tight
Makes me forget that there's something on my mind
Twist and pull but I won't drown tonight
Think I've got to get my head right

(CHORUS)

But it's never gonna get any better
So what's the point in all this stress and tears?
We're just running up a brick wall here
Might as well cut the threads cos
This could go on for years
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you

You can't save me from myself

I think I've fallen in too deep
Tumbleweed yet these roots grow so deep
I still get butterflies when I think about you
Got your own back, remember that night
You were drunk, you were spoiling for a fight
Kicked and screamed till you could not speak
Then we made the best love we had had in weeks

But it's never gonna get any better
Won't hold you back so I think I'll say goodbye
Can't see your point and there's no point if you won't try
Not fond of begging so I think I'll make it clear

It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you, with you, with you, with you

(CHORUS)

But it's never gonna get any better
So what's the point in all this stress and tears?
We're just running up a brick wall here
Might as well cut the threads cos
This could go on for years
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you in here
It's a little airtight locked inside with you
