"Simpletons"

Simpletons cross my path, I don't know this anymore
Looking after me, I don't hear them anymore
The writer send the words, I don't read them anymore
I will wait for you, until the day
Yes I will wait for you, if I may
The day's a longer time for you
And it will all be fine for you

Giants and dragons fight, I don't feel them anymore
Apples and oranges, I can't taste them like before
The simple things again, I don't feel them anymore
I will wait for you, until the day
Yes I will wait for you, if I may
The day's a longer time for you
And it will all be fine for you.
