I've traveled far, I've traveled fast
Just to get to this day
And you, you've been so sad
For all these years
Please don't be sad with me

Cause you are a sailor
And I am the sea
You've walked on dry, dry land and now live
underneath
With me and all my crazy friends who don't care much
for me

Well you drive the corner with me in the passenger seat
Just drive until the gas runs out with the sand underneath our feet

Forget about our families
And everything the music brings Just dance beneath the moon and stars
Only wine passes our teeth

Cause you are a sailor
And I am the sea
You've walked on dry, dry land and now live
underneath
for me

You are my sailor, you are my sailor
And I am the sea, I am the sea
