"She Fights That Lovin' Feeling"

She is filled with mixed emotions
From a need that keeps messin' up her mind
And she fights the gentle pressures
That keep pullin' on her heart strings all the time She does fine until somebody's touch wakes the sleeping passions inside of
Her
And she fights that lovin' feeling until I can love the fight right out of Her.

She was turned into a woman
By a man and her love for him was strong Then the love she knew was shattered
When she woke up one day and found him gone

But the craving for somebody's love is still ever present in her world
And she fights that lovin' feeling until I can love the
fight right out of Her.

It's so hard for her not to act like a woman
When all her lovin' feelings begin to stir
She prays for the love she remembers
And she fights that lovin' feeling until I can love the
fight right out of Her.

And she fights that lovin' feeling until I can love the fight right out of
Her
