and it's been said
she dreamed in color she lived her life in black and white
and it's been said
she's been here far too long to just surrender she's far too far from home to just turn around

Monday she left home for New York City by Friday she was found but torn apart before she left a letter on the table wrapped in ribbons she wore across her heart she said the world could never know that we're better off this way she said we'd never understand it all her touch was the feel of magical and her eyes were the color of beautiful she said it's better off this way if you're reading this you're far too late too many chances and too many chances please don't wait things will never be the same again it's been said

and it's been said
this house is haunted cause you didn't believe like i believe in you
and it's been said
this could have been avoided if we only loved the way we should
