Well she was standing there
At the edge of outta control
Hair wild and her eyes
Filled with the pain

She took her heart on a string
And tied it to a red balloon
And she watched it fly up
High into the clouds

Don't break my heart again
We're one and the same
Baptized by tears
And washed in the blame

You can let your heart go
But I will hunt you down
Your love is all I want to win
So don't break my heart again

He dreams of a girl
With a heart tied to a red balloon
He wants her so bad
She wants him too

They're standing there at the edge
Of another lonely night
House empty
And the walls are caving in

Don't break my heart again
We're one and the same
Baptized by tears
And washed in the blame

You can let your heart go
But I will hunt you down
Your love is all I want to win
So don't break my heart again

It's hard to find love
It's hard to find love

It's hard to find love
It's hard to find love

Don't break my heart again
We're one and the same
Baptized by tears
And washed in the blame

You can let your heart go
But I will hunt you down
Your love is all I want to win
So don't break my heart again

It's hard to find love
But I will hunt you down
Your love is all I want to win
