In my world there's no one who shows how life could be lived.
Everyone has a real face.
No one rules and no censorships can keep all of my mistakes, tiny people so hypocritical.
and now I'll build what I describe to you inside my brain, no abuse of nature.
And so I'm going to bring colours into my world instead of following your conditions that dictate control.
No explanations gonna make it seem alright, I'm not that boy No you will not be able to switch off my brain I'm not the puppet guided by your hands!
You can't bring me down if anything changes.
I just find a safe place where lying by myself, it's inside me, where I'm now.
I just find a safe place closer to my world where you won't find me, where I can star in my own show,

where she asks me to describe the things I've learned within my life grown up.
where I can star in my own show,
where she asks me to describe the things I just want to star in my show, she asked me to describe the things I had learned just before saying hello,
and now I'll build what I describe to you
inside my brain, no abuse of nature.
And so I'm going to bring colours
into my world instead of following
your conditions that dictate control.
I'm going to bring colours into my world instead of following your double personality and your fuckin' racism
