

Being "Cosmonaut"

No amount of preparation leads me,
To be ready to depart believe me,
I hold on to all of that which freely,
Floats about under my feet beneath me.

Elevation ever rising I'm shown,
Upwards into everything that's unknown,
What's the meaning or the purpose? I'll go,
Despite all the reasoning I know.

Floating upward,
Searching forward,
Reaching inward,
For my soul.

Bring me back home, To the world that I've known,
I resent this, Resistance!
How have I grown, From the people I've known?
I can't bear this, Distance!
Distance!

I'll be waiting for gravity, to be,
Pulling me back,
I'll be running on empty, 'till we,
Find the right track.

Bring me back home, To the world that I've known,
I resent this, Resistance!
How have I grown, From the people I've known?
I can't bear this, Distance!
Distance!
Distance!

Now I can grow from the people I know,
There is no resentment left that I show,
All I had to do to fall was let go,
I have bridged the distance over the flow.
Now I can grow from the people I know,
There is no resentment left that I show,
All I had to do to fall was let go,
I have bridged the distance over the flow.

I'll be waiting for gravity, to be,
Pulling me back,
I'll be running on empty, till we,
Find the right track.
