Got your house, and your cars, bet you doing so well got replaced, in the place, that I bought you so tell Your new guy, how I lied, to keep you out of jail (forgot about that didn't you?) The candles don't work, cause I keep getting burned,
You think you're alright, but the truth's not a lie,
it's my turn

Burn it down, up in flames, it's the price I paid, Got a new face, you don't say, guess he made a mistake,
Don't you think, this is over, bout to get put to shame
The fire's real hot, but love's tangled knots, You threw me away, just a pawn in a game, ready or not

Here I am, and here I come, when it's all done crash and burn, lesson learned, lesson learned

Don't be scared, don't you fear, the inevitable
I won't hurt you, just expose you for the jerk that I know
So sit back, and relax, darling enjoy the show
The candles don't work, cause I keep getting
burned,
You think you're alright, but the truth's not a lie,
it's my turn

Wipe that smile, off your face, baby I'm not a clown
In the end, I will win, brush your name out of town I'll return, to my throne, and get back my crown
The fire's real hot, but love's tangled knots,
You threw me away, just a pawn in a game, ready or
not

Here I am, and here I come, when it's all done
crash and burn, lesson learned, lesson learned

They teach us up in class, they teach us about math, but not about the facts of getting through life,

We have lessons over geometry, but I got an "œA" in hostility

Here I am, and here I come, when it's all done crash and burn, lesson learned, lesson learned x2
