Am I talking to myself,
Am I talking to myself tryna figure out?
Say something, say something,
Am I putting up a fight,
Am I putting up a fight, or am I giving in?
Lay down, lay down
Can't stand to face another dawn,
No one here to take me home,
I came so close but now you're gone,
Where do I belong?

The higher I climb,
The harder I fall,
Gonna crash into the ground,
But I don't care no more.
If I scream out your name,
Will you hear my call?
Or should I just prepare myself,
To take another hard fall?
Take another hard fall?

I see the colour of the light,
I see the colour of the light, that you're giving in
Blinded, blinded
I feel the rush inside my head,
I feel the rush inside my head, that you're giving me
Well I'm reminded
I've been chasing shadows far too long,
Walked all night to touch the dawn,
I came so close but now you're gone,
Where do I belong?

The higher I climb,
The harder I fall,
Gonna crash into the ground,
But I don't care no more.
If I scream out your name,
Will you hear my call?
Or should I just prepare myself,
To take another hard fall?
Take another hard fall?

Take another hard fall?
Take another hard fall?

Ohhh,
The higher I climb,
The harder I fall,
Gonna crash into the ground,
But I don't care no more.
If I scream out your name,
Will you hear my call?
Or should I just prepare myself,
To take another hard fall?

The faster you rise,
And the faster I fall,
I've given up my parachute,
But I don't care no more.
If I scream out your name,
Will you hear my call?
Or should I just prepare myself,
To take another hard fall?
Take another hard fall?
