"Close Your Eyes"

Yesterday I sang a song, the lonely road I walked along.
I used to think I'd be someone if I could make it happen.
Looking down this dead end road, alone I thought of you.
The only way about it was to make my dreams come true.

I want you to notice me around.
Give me something more to find, stuck inside this town.

You close your eyes; everything is fine, until morning sees the light. it's time to...

Go and think about tomorrow or let it slip away.
Put your boring life behind you, grow up for a change.
I'm driving down this one way street, you know how I feel.
It's time to look around you; it's never been so real.

I want you to notice me around
Give me something more to find, stuck inside this town

It's time to go.
