I lay awake and wonder, if I'll ever meet.
A girl that I can call my own, Instead of just a dream.
And then I close my eyes, she's there in front of me.
I try to grab and hold her, it's just a fantasy.

Though you're not quite real
Please come to my world
We could be together
My imaginary girl.

It's hard to be alone, when love is all around you
No matter how I try, I never seem to find you.

I find it hard when things go wrong, no-one to turn to.
One day I'll meet that special girl, it could be you.

Though you're not quite real
Please come to my world
We could be together
My imaginary girl.
What if things were different?
After it's all through
We could do the right thing
And I would be with you.
