Have you ever been driven to the point of no return, when no one gives a shit, they'd rather see you burn And all you want to do is grant that wish, drink yourself to death like the fucking irish, cause it drowns the pain and fucks with your brain, though I couldnt give a shit cause I'm fucking insane

Now I'm doin things like I never done before, it's obvious now, don't give a fuck about the law Cause you pushed and I'm weak, it's only been four weeks since I held you in my arms, now all I do is weep I can't be replaced you were meant for me, settle for second best and now I dream, of what I'd do to the prick if I ever get the chance, load up an A.K and make the fucker dance
And I'd make you watch you fucking bitch, make you see what you did to me

Cause we walk the same path but in different shoes, look at the future and have different views You seein a pot'o gold at the end of the road, I'm seein a cell door with a slightly different flow, cause I'll be there for life and I don't give a shit, Was never born a killer but you shouldn't push me...
Bitch...
