I think I found a way for everyone in town to say
That we'll never break a sweat again
I think I found a way for everyone in town to say
That we'll never she'd another salty tear

I'm sick of taking orders
I'm sick of stacking brick and mortar
To make your castle bigger
To make your army strong

I think I found a way for everyone in town to say
That we'll never break a sweat again
I think I found a way for everyone in town to say
That we'll never lift another finger no

I'm sick of taking orders
I'm sick of stacking brick and mortar
To make your castle bigger
To make your pockets thicker
I'm sick of taking orders
I'm sick of stacking brick and mortar
To make your castle bigger
To make your army strong

They left me here
Those bastards left me here
