

Beneath The Sheets

"Marissa Moves"

Visit "Marissa Moves" on MotoLyrics.com

Yea I'm working late, I'm trying to start this business up
And get this damn band on the road
I never sleep, I work until the sun comes up And seeing your sweet face is all that I long for When I get home it's you I hold, but in the night our bed grows cold
Why?
Everybody falls in love but I guess we fell out of it this time
Well I guess that's fine

When Marissa moves
I might not see her for another lifetime
When Marissa moves
I might not see her for a little while

What was it that you said, what was it that you said?
I keep coming home to empty sheets upon my bed
What was it that you meant, What was it that you meant?
I keep waking up to empty sheets upon my bed Where were you at half past two when I woke up and reached for you?
I'm dying to know, I'm dying to know
Was there something that I missed, another set of lips you kissed
I'm dying to know, don't tell me though

I've been thinking bout it, I've been thinking bout it
I've been thinking bout it, losing sleep about it Knowing in the back of my mind you've been seeing someone else

Visit Beneath The Sheets page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.