[Intro]

We are the movement, together we'll reign.
We are the movement, together we'll reign.
We are the movement, together we'll reign.
We are the movement.

Riding the right path
And making the choice to do what's best for me
So throw it down, pick it up.
Do whatever you please.
Do what's best for you.

We walk the path between the sides
Of who we trust and whoever isn't on our side.
It's better just to know your enemies
Then not to know who is behind your back at all.

Embrace the man within you.
The fire burning inside.
Embrace the man within you.
'Cause it's all for one or it's nothing at all.
It's all for one or it's nothing at all.
I'm getting tired of swallowing my words.
I've meant every word I've said
'Cause you've earned your title.
I now crown you king.
I have all faith in those
Who would chose hope over the violence
That sleeps silently inside our youth.

But I have mercy
For the lost I have found.
This is our destiny.
For the lost I have found.
This is our destiny.

We are the movement, together we'll reign.
We are the movement, together we'll reign.
