Woke up to, the smell of dust
Breathing in, in disbelief

Fighting to remember, what happened here
I won't surrender, I'm past my fear

I'm searching for you
Night and day
I'm waiting for you
Here I stay

Shaking off the dust
Finding all I've lost
I know I'll find you here
I feel your presence is near

No sign, no one around
What was lost may never be found
I haven't spoken in years
My eyes have no more tears

My heart has no more fears
Your voice still echoes in my ears
Your memories keep me alive
Past this tragedy I've survived

I feel so weak and alone
All my reason may be gone
No sign of life
No reason for light

I'm searching for you
Night and day
I'm waiting for you
Here I stay
