On my way driving in my car I saw the light of a falling star She took my hand and made me understand I caught a glimpse of a secret land

I've been dreaming
running through my fantasy twisting curiosity
gazing, feeling waiting here impatiently longing for your company it's strange

the angels fall from the sky I don't know why close my eyes trying to interchange their spirits peaceful and shy wondering why close my eyes in disguise, realize I'm looking for a change

On your way down the avenue guardian angels watch over you some may say: I don't care anyway! ask for help on the other day

I've been dreaming
They're coming down from outer space living here without a trace fading, feeling standing on the borderline recognize the signs of time it's

Chorus repeat

Lalalalalalala Ooooohh

twisting curiosity
fading, feeling

They're standing on the borderline
recognize the signs of time it's
