One step away from falling of the edge
And you're struggling and you're trying
But I will have to let you die
You're more dead to me
With every further word you speak
And I won't tell you no lie
I won't say it just so you feel better

(Chorus)
No I won't ease your soul
No I won't make you feel justified
No I won't ease your soul
Ni I won't no I won't no I won't

One breath away from the last one that you'll take
And I'll make it worth your while
Oh I'll let you go in style
See I don't wanna change you
And you sure won't change me
And I will sit here and just smile
I'm just not that type and you should know that

(chorus)

See I don't know what to say
But you don't know what you say
Although you're talking to me
It seems like you be talking through me
Your voice seems far away
And I only see your lips moving
Like you're in the tv
And I'm out here watching a movie
Damn where's the botton to switch this off
Sh's over doing it
She goes "you know I mean"
I'm like "no, I won't approve it!"
Lord show her a sign or something

Don't wanna hear about shopping
She's just yapping without stopping
And don't even see what's happening

She don't feel nothing
I would like to talk about different things like
The world we're living in and who is really spinning it
But I guess the point is our worlds are too different
And I won't smile like some hypocrite
Make you feel justified

(chorus)
