Now we're walking down an alley
Now I'm talking spiritually
We got one eye on the future and the other on our money
And all our feeling goes dead, when we switch on that channel.
So over fed with the terrible flannel
Try to switch off my head
Use my soul instead
So I'll get ahead of these things
I said

(Chorus)
There's a soul
Soul
A soulstorm everywhere
It's a everywhere
Everywhere
A soulstorm everywhere

I was taught that talk is cheap and I have learned that love is deep God gave me my soul to keep
So I talk love a whole big heap
And I will not point a finger for it is timeless and will linger
I keep my own words down so I won't drown
Repeat one more time, don't hinder

(Chorus 2x)

Some people might be wondering
Is his head in the clouds and no ground under him
What the so and so's he on about
So I'll just break it down, down (no doubt)
I got up out of bed one misty morning
Found myself sitting there and brainstorming
About how to be true without being corny
Do some soulsstorming

Must be the benefit of the global warming
I realised that there ain't no harm in Planting soul and a little farming
Do some soul farming
Soulâ€¦

(Chorus 4x)
