You'll never know
That I've been through so much to get you here
I'm still alive

And I'm losing all my thought
Do you know where I've been all this time?
Yeah, I'm still alive

You will know
What it's like to figure this all out,
When you're too late

You will say,
In a world that let's you down: "there is no hope"
You're on your own

So I'll say:
I never meant to bend,
Never meant to follow your footsteps in the fire

No, you will never break me
You will never change me
This is my one chance to feel alive

Oh, you're not afraid
I'd rather be a wonderer than follow you
Yeah I'm still alive

You will say,
In a world that let's you down: "there's no hope"
You're on your own

So I'll say:
I never meant to bend
Never meant to follow your footsteps in the fire

No you will never break me
You will never change me
This is my one chance to feel alive

I'm on my own
And I'm not looking back

I've gone this far
I'm going my own way

I'm leaving this fire behind
There's nothing that can stop me now
This is my one chance to feel alive
Don't look back tonight

So I'll say:
I never meant to bend
Never meant to follow your footsteps in the fire

No you will never break me
You will never change me
I've never felt so alone

There's nothing that can stop me now
This is my one chance to feel alive
To feel alive
To feel alive
((there's nothing that can stop me now
This is my one chance to feel alive))
