Made a new year's resolution
To never make these mistakes again
So I ask myself this question
How many times have I said this
How many times have I said this now?

Made a promise to you last year
How things were gonna change round here
Now I see I'm not what you need
I promise I'll make it up to you
I promise I'll make it up to you next year.

Made another resolution
To never say this all again
No matter how hard I try
I can't see why I tell you
I can't see why I tell you why...

Made a promise to you last year
How things were gonna change round here
Now I see I'm not what you need
I promise I'll make it up to you
I promise I'll make it up to you next year

Made a promise to you last year
How things were gonna change round here
Now I see I'm not what you need
I promise I'll make it up to you
I promise I'll make it up to you next year
