Look it's almost morning
Baby turn your collar up
There ain't nobody dancing
Who looks better down and out on their luck
Run away to a little place with me
Where everybody thinks we're royalty
Think of how easy life could be
Eh eh
Run away to a place that isn't far
Forget the jet we'll take the car
It doesn't matter where we are

Won't you carry me away
After endless ballroom dreams
With you starting every day
We'll be high society
We'll drink Chardonnay through the day
Cause we say so
A silk lapel suits you well baby you know
With you each and every day
We'll be high society

You never sleep late on Sunday
Cause that's how it's done in Monaco
Except for when you came stateside
You never let me sleep late alone
Lets sneak into a country club and when
We can't get in slip them a ten
Isn't it fun to play pretend?
Eh eh
Find somebody else that we can blame
For all the things we do that cause us pain
Keep keeping on like life's a game

Won't you carry me away
After endless ballroom dreams
With you starting every day
We'll be high society
We'll drink Chardonnay through the day
Cause we say so
A silk lapel suits you well baby you know

With you each and every day
We'll be high society

There ain't nobody dancing
Who looks better down and out on their luck
It's in our blood
We're above the highest penthouse
Tell me the world is ours
We'll be high

Won't you carry me away
After endless ballroom dreams
With you starting every day
We'll be high society
We'll drink Chardonnay through the day
Cause we say so
A silk lapel suits you well baby you know
With you each and every day
We'll be high society
