where are you now?
please come home
where are you now?
the kitchen is sold
please come home
the garden is bare
the birds have all flown

I dream of machines
that take you from here
I dream of machines
I dream of the nights
you breathed on my ear I'll cut off my head
to stop all these tears

the wheat fields are all on fire and I made them burn
the wheat fields are all on fire
will I ever learn

here in my arms
is where you should be
here in my arms
is where you should be
here in my heart
is a vacancy
I curse to the wind
that took you from me
