So I think it all started
With a twitch and then and odd man calm
All along
It's what you wanted to believe in.
We grow apart in such an armored way everyday.

Cause what you want is what you get
And what you get ain't happened yet

Hey you say you want out
You say you wanted everything
Take it while you can and then you run away.
You say you want out
You say you're taking everything
Take it while you can and then you hold it

I watch you stumble with your petulance
It's almost funny when it comes your way
Bruise the day.
Let's see your plan your cute getaways
Watch you spin up on your Cuban heels
How's it feel?

Cause what you want is what you get
And what you get ain't happened yet

Hey you say you want out
You say you want everything
Take it while you can and then you run away
You said you want out
You said you wanted everything
Baby won't you help me please understand
Just say you want out
You say you want everything
Baby won't you take it from my cold dead hands
You say you want out
You say you want everything
Baby won't you take it from my cold dead hands

Oohhhh

Hey! you say you want out
You say you want everything
Take it while you can and then you run away.
You said you want out
You said you wanted everything
Baby won't you help me please understand
You say you want out
You say you want everything
Baby won't you take it from my cold dead hands
Just say you want out
You say you want everything
Baby won't you take it from my cold dead
