I always knew how to lock up my soul
Exception all cases when I give up control
Was always afraid to loose myself and you
You worry too much 'bout being lonely
But I can tell you you're not the only
Who is need of someone
Someone who can catch your fall
Be careful with your lover take care of your soul
Be careful with your words and don't you loose control
Be careful with your feelings and take care of your friends
But be careful not to be too careful
We got it all but we wasted it away
There is so much that we never say
We stand all along with our backs against the wall
Tell me who can catch our fall
Yeah yeah yeah
Be careful with your lover take care of your soul
Be careful with your words and don't you loose control
Be careful with your feelings and take care of your
friends
But be careful not to be too careful
But be careful not to be too careful
We stand all along with our backs against the wall
Tell me who can catch your fall
Be careful with your lover take care of your soul
Be careful with your words and don't you loose control
Be careful with your feelings and take care of your
friends
But be careful not to be too careful
Be careful with your lover take care of your soul
Be careful with your words and don't you loose control
Be careful with your feelings and take care of your
friends
But be careful not to be too careful
