I never should've knocked on your front door tonight
Just look at all those candles, I wish you wouldn't light
You got me doing things I swore I wouldn't do
I just can't trust myself with you

You've got me feelin' like lovin' you again
Even though the last time ended the way the first time did
You've got me lyin' here fallen, like a fool
I just can't trust myself with you

I'd get up and say goodbye, if I had any sense left Whoa, the way you're kissin' me, ain't much help Why heaven let those lips talk me into
I just can't trust myself with you

You've got me feelin' like lovin' you again
Even though the last time ended the way the first time
did
You've got me lyin' here, fallen like a fool
I just can't trust myself with you

You've got me lyin' here, fallen like a fool
I just can't trust myself with you

I just can't trust myself with you
