Goodbye can take so long to say
The words come out so quickly
While the heart keeps holdin' on so tight

Though our time is gone forever
For good or even better
After all the hurtful words we should be kind

So I pray, that you find your piece of heaven
And it warms you like a blanket
'Til you're not afraid to dream
And I pray, that someday love will find you
Wrap it's heated arms around you
But more than any thing
I hope you pray the same for me

I struggle with the devil
He tried his best to win
But I refuse to sow those whipped seeds

And I wrestle with emotions
Both good and bad alike
'Til I found strength down here on my knees

So I pray, that you find your piece of heaven
And it warms you like a blanket
'Til you're not afraid to dream
And I pray, that someday love will find you
Wrap it's heated arms around you
But more than any thing
I hope you pray the same for me

Oh, I hope you pray the same for me
