I've got a friend I don't yet know
I've got a story waiting to be told
And I've got seeds that have not been sowed
Out in any field

I've got Gold waiting to be mined
I've got desires, they've been denied
And I've got dreams that have not died
Safe inside my soul

Oh Sun, please don't fail to rise
Oh Stars, please don't fail to shine
Oh Breeze, don't fail to whisper in the pine

I've got shoes never been worn

I've got a shirt that's never been torn
And I've got a song waiting to be born
Hiding in this guitar

I once hugged a man, he'd never been hugged
I once loved a woman, she'd never been loved
But she had something waiting to be sprung
From behind her green eyes

Oh Sun, please don't fail to rise
Oh Stars, please don't fail to shine
Oh Breeze, don't fail to whisper in the pine
