Everywhere I go,
These tears begin to flow,
When will they ever disappear?
Not for many years.

And I can't stand it anymore.

Far away from reach,
I learn that my patience can't be weak,
Ahead in better times I see,
But now there's nothing left for me.

And I can't stand it anymore.

And I can't stand it anymore.

The last page I read,
Surprises me,
Never thought that it would end,
This way.
And I can't stand it anymore.
