

Bitter Ruin

"Soundproof Box"

Life is hard living as a ghost
When all I try to do is touch you
My fingers disappear into you
I must be shouting into

A soundproof box
Where nothing can be heard it's locked
I'm wasting my last breath
Into a soundproof you

I'm so close I'm moving your hairs
By breathing onto your skin, that feeling
But you brush away the sensation
A frown, I'm disappearing
Into

A soundproof box
Where nothing can be heard it's locked
I'm wasting my last breath
Into a soundproof you

And you're never coming back

A soundproof box
Where nothing can be heard it's locked
I'm wasting my last breath
Into a soundproof you
