slip into your skin and spend the night and get out of mine walking the streets in dark where lamps are the sunshine for the trees oh for the trees

cause everybody needs somebody to hold them down
oh everybody needs somebody
to hold them down
when your feet are leaving the ground leaving the ground

be the blanket for my bones be a place that i call home slipped into your skin and spent the night cause i feel like a different man i feel it when i'm with you when i'm with you
when i'm with you
when i'm with you
