

Patrick Watson

"Strange Crooked Road"

Visit "Strange Crooked Road" on MotoLyrics.com

There was a woman who sewed her man to the bed Took a baseball bat so she could talk to him instead Well it didn't take too long so he would never hurt her again

Roland had a dream of making big news,
Bought a stick of dynamite and he lit the fuse
And on his CB radio told his friend it was time to go Boom
He made the front page the very next day

There was a boy called little Jesu Couldn't move his hands or feet or talk back to you Just sat there sleeping awake And everybody in the town would drop by and fill his ears
With the things that were bringing them down
Said he was the best listener in town Sometimes it takes us by surprise when it's a strange
crooked road
Sometimes it takes us way too long when it's a strange
crooked road
You woke up this morning asking what's going down Wondered if your feet would do any good to the ground
But under the pillows are stories that keep us from getting cold
And out of the desert came the messenger man Million words and a cigar in his hands Told me if I talked to the sky he would give us this song
"Cause it's a strange crooked road
Sometimes it takes us by surprise when it's a strange
crooked road

Visit Patrick Watson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.