I got my feet knocked off the ground
I got my head knocked off my feet
I tried to swallow all of the world
And now I'm diving in too deep
And now I'm falling towards the sky
I just don't know how am I
But I got the weight of all the world
I better not let go of the reins

Oh what am I s'posed to do
Am I s'posed to echo all of you?
Am I s'posed to fall back to the sky?
Or keep on rising for a while?

I think I'm fallin' down
I'm back to very ground
I couldn't hold it anymore
I've had my hours asking for
I think these nice to hold
Or I don't see how could I change my way
I was carrying the weight of all the world
I'm gonna get what I deserve
I got my feet knocked off the ground
I got my head knocked off my feet
I tried to spin it all away
I think I got in too deep
I think you know I have to go
I think you know what I deserve
Here comes the weight of all the world
And it's coming straight for me.
