"Sallie"

The time we spent before
I never thought that it would end this way
You're lost forever
And when the door is broken
Giving it up too late, it just got out of hand
Apprehension

Sore head, you're aching
I'm afraid you've been taking risks here
From problems that I've grown to hate
Don't wait too long
Self-controlling and moronic inside

When you said, "This one last time"
Is that truly a way to live?
You're too far gone
It wasn't long ago when
These desires clouded both of my jaded eyes
Won't believe them

Tumbling in a vicious cycle spiraling away from innocence
Happened once and I'm sure it will come again
Don't wait too long
Self-controlling and moronic
Your acts reveal that you're not meant for me
