Come now my brothers, gather around
Listen carefully for the final sound
The tawling clang, the peel of the bell
For we must live past the last deathknell
Rejoice in an eternity of endless pain
For their world of insanity left us sane

Sing! For life, in storms of steel
Strength! Through strife, in storms of steel
Sing! For life, in storms of steel
Strength! Through strife, in storms of steel

Until all is said and done
When the stream of blood has all yet run
When silent darkness covers this land
Of swallen rubble once did stand

Now forever gone to the forgotten
No epitath for all that was simply rotten

Sing! For life, in storms of steel
Strength! Through strife, in storms of steel
Sing! For life, in storms of steel
Strength! Through strife, in storms of steel

It belongs to us tomorrows born
But for tonight we must still rally this storm

And sing! For life, in storms of steel
Strength! Through strife, in storms of steel
Sing! For life, in storms of steel
Strength! Through strife, in storms of steel

Now sing! For life, in storms of steel
