Sometime, I can't help thinking
Just what my life is for
I try to do very best that I can
Yet, I know I can do more

This life I lead is not one without its pain
That doesn't mean I should smile nothing there to gain

I can't complain
I know the sun shines through the rains
It still survives
I can't complain
Everyday is a new beginning
And this is journey of my life
Journey of my life

I've done just as I've desired
Lived on wire without a net, been so many places
Said, "I've seen so many faces
Beautiful friends I will never forget"

Sometimes I look above and think, I wanna give it up
Then I remember all the lives that I have touched

I can't complain
I know the sun shines through the rains
It still survives
I can't complain
Everyday is a new beginning
And this is journey of my life
Journey of my life

So many yesterdays have come and gone their way
Love leads me straight and clear into the light of day

I'm not the only one who's learned to try again
And through it all I've got my family and friends

So I can't complain
I know the sun shines through the rains
It still survives
I can't complain

Everyday is a new beginning
And this is journey of my life

I can't complain
I know the sun shines through the rains
It still survives
I can't complain
Everyday is a new beginning
And this is journey of my life
And this is journey of my life

I can't complain
