Why be so negative why choose to be unhappy
Why can't you invest in yourself
Instead of giving everything away

Tell me have you become old are you gonna collapse now
Why be home alone please, tell me what is wrong

Different blood
There is only our name
There's no time
We have ourselves to blame
Only shame
And it's leads to pain

The other one used to be so strong
You used to bury your tears for so long
Seems we all have grown fragile
Still alive we keep holding on

It seems I live only in yesterday
Don't really know what there is today
There is no substitute for a family
This time I promise not to leave
