White pills on the tablecloth
An empty glass in front of me
Everything is going up and down
It's hard to tell you what I see

Meds will always be part of the game
Even when you are clean in your head
Everybody has taken their pills
Will you take your meds?
Will you take your medicines, my dear?

We didn't knew what it was
We didn't knew that it was more then just a kick
I know I can live a day without it
And just that feeling is making me so sick

Meds will always be part of the game
Even when you are clean in your head
Everybody has taken their pills
Will you take your meds?
Will you take your medicines, my dear?

One, Two, Three, Lets Go!

Meds will always be part of the game
Even when you are clean in your head
Everybody has taken their pills
Will you take your meds?
Will you take your meds

Meds will always be part of the game
Even when you are clean in your head
Everybody has taken their pills
Will you take your meds?
Will you take your medicines, my dear
